Wissenschaftszentrum Berlin
für Sozialforschung

Das Wissenschaftszentrum Berlin für Sozialforschung (WZB) betreibt problemorientierte Grundlagenforschung. Untersucht werden Entwicklungen, Probleme und Innovationschancen moderner Gesellschaften. Die Forschung ist theoriegeleitet, praxisbezogen, oft langfristig angelegt und meist international vergleichend.

Two Student Assistants (f/m/x)

Stadt: Berlin; Beginn: 01.08.2019; Vergütung: In accordance with German civil service standards (TV Stud III; currently € 12.50/hour); Bewerbungsfrist: 31.05.2019

Aufgaben

The WZB Berlin Social Science Center's research area International Politics and Law, Research Group 'Governance for Global Health' (Head: Prof. Dr. Anna Holzscheiter), seeks

two Student Assistants (f/m/x).

One student assistant is to be employed for a period of 9 months, starting 01 August 2019 and a weekly working load of 10 hours.

A second student assistant is to be employed for a period of 5 months, starting 01 January 2020 and a weekly working load of 10 hours.

The positions are within the research project COLLISIONS ('Responding to Norm Collisions: Procedural Norms and Interface Management in Fragmented Areas of Transnational Politics'), jointly directed by Prof. Dr. Anna Holzscheiter (WZB; Freie Universität Berlin) and Prof. Dr. Andrea Liese (University of Potsdam). COLLISIONS is part of the DFG Research Group 'Overlapping Spheres of Authority and Interface Conflicts in the Global Order' (www.osaic.eu) and, within the WZB, is connected to the Research Group 'Governance for Global Health'.

The project COLLISIONS compares the emergence of norm collisions in six areas of international cooperation: human trafficking, drug control, organ trade, protection of refugees, genetically modified organisms, and child labour. It investigates the conditions under which norm collisions become manifest in international politics and how different actors (state, non-state, intergovernmental) respond to such collisions.
